CAN YOU SURVIVE A ZOMBIE APOCALYPSE?

Five years ago, a strange virus spread across the world infecting millions of people. The infected died, but soon came back to life as zombies hungry for human flesh. It's now the present day and you are living in a world that has been destroyed by bombs to try and stop the virus from spreading. Most of the buildings, houses, bridges and other structures are covered in rubble and dust. There is no running water. Restaurants, grocery stores, and homes have been completely cleaned out of food. There is no electricity, no working cars, planes, or modern weapons. However, there are still plenty of zombies in the city, so you are now living in the wilderness. Would you be able to survive a zombie apocalypse without any technology or modern weapons? What basic skills or objects would you use to survive? If you do not think you would survive, explain why and write about what you would need to survive. Write at least 5 sentences.

Tips: Write about physical or social skills you have, what you can use to m	ake weapons, how you'd find food, etc.
